CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE—2005–06 REGULAR SESSION

ASSEMBLY BILL

No. 620

Introduced by Assembly Member Negrete McLeod

February 17, 2005

An act to amend Sections 1335, 1336, 1337, and 1341 of the Penal Code, relating to criminal proceedings.

LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGEST

AB 620, as amended, Negrete McLeod. Criminal proceedings: examination of witnesses.

Existing law provides for the conditional examination of a witness by the defendant in all cases and by the people in cases where the punishment may be other than death. Existing law further provides that when the defendant has been charged with a serious felony, as defined, the people may have a witness examined conditionally if the people have evidence the life of the witness is in jeopardy.

This bill would permit the people or the defendant, when the defendant is charged with a serious felony, to have a witness examined conditionally if there is evidence that the life of the witness is in jeopardy.

Existing law provides that the defendant or the people may apply for an order that the witness be examined conditionally when the material witness is about to leave the state, or is so sick as to afford reasonable grounds he or she will be unable to attend the trial, or is a person 70 years of age or older, or a dependent adult. Further, existing law provides the people may apply for the conditional examination of a prosecution witness when the people have evidence that the witness' life is in jeopardy.

This bill would lower the age at which a conditional examination application for a material witness may be made to 65 years of age or older. This bill would permit a conditional examination to be sought by either the people or the defendant when there is evidence a witness, not just a prosecution witness, is in jeopardy.

Existing law outlines specified information that must be provided upon an affidavit when applying for a conditional examination, including the nature of the offense, the state of the proceedings in the action, witness information, and the specified grounds that make the conditional examination necessary.

Existing law prohibits a conditional examination unless the reasons for the exam, as provided for in statute, are shown to the satisfaction of the magistrate.

This bill would make other conforming changes to reduce the witness age to 65, from 70, for purposes of granting a request for a conditional examination, and to conform the definition of “dependent ~~adult~~”: adult.”
